Money for the Balsom.

Am willing to trade Rio Bonito lands in Butte County, California; for two or three town lots, or for a house and lot in Reno. It is believed that Rio Bonito property will increase in value 100 per cent within two years. There are no richer lands in the world than the Ponderosa timber lands, good for ranges, lemons, peaches, apricots and other fruits without irrigation. This is an excellent opportunity for speculation, or to get a home in one of the best spots in California. Will be in Reno for a few days, and will be pleased to meet all those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity. C. S. YOUNG.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and capillaries leading from them.

When these tubes are choked with mucus, when one cannot be sure his lungs cannot half do their work. And when they do, they cannot do well.

But, come, you say, you are not a doctor, and any one in the family of illness and pain and head-and-lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be given up. That is to take舟子's Wormwood Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at a fraction of a bottle. Even if you have failed us, you may yet succeed upon our advice.

Cure for Piles.

Hodgkinson Piles are now produced a very disagreeable moisture after getting warm. This form, as well as Bleeding and Piles, are now yielding to the new application of Dr. Jacobson's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the part affected, absorbing the tumor, allaying the intense itching and burning pain, and giving a general relief of 50 cents. Address The Rosario Medical Co., Piqua, O. Sold by B. J. Hodgkinson & Co., Reno, Nev.

Dr. Bo-San Ho.

In his new discovery for Consumption succeeded in producing a medicine which is administered by all to be singly miraculous. It is exceedingly pleasant to the taste, perfectly harmless and does not sicken. In all cases of Consumption, Tongue, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Sore Throat, &c., it is the best medicine given universal assent. Dr. Bo-San Ho's Cough and Lung Syrup is sold at 50 cents by B. J. Hodgkinson & Co., Reno, Nev.

Bucklin's Arsenic Balsom.

The best balsom in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Hodgkinson & Co., Reno, Nev.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietine Remedies" were sold at the Dispensary, the California State Fair at Sacramento, and at McManus' Institute at San Francisco. Wm. Planiger is agent for those celebrated "Abietine Remedies" and if they do not give satisfaction, in buying, be sure the facsimile signature of Dr. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

Cure for Skin Diseases.

Go to S J Hodgkinson the Druggist and get a free sample of Dr. Gunn's Liver Pill; will cure sick headache the first night. Good for Biliousness, Sallow Complexion or Pimples on the face. Only one for a dose. Twenty-five cents a box. fels-51.

An Absolute Cure.

The ORIGINAL ABRIETINE OINTMENT is only put up in large two-ounce boxes, and is an absolute cure for old sores, burns, wounds, chapped hands, and skin eruptions. Will positively cure piles, &c. DR. JORDAN'S ORIGINAL ABRIETINE OINTMENT. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker at 25 cents per box—by mail 50 cents.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. WINSTON'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children's teething. It soothed the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

SOCIETY MEETINGS.

THE THIRTEEN SUPERSTITION.

Its Strength and Persistence, and Some Attempts to Cure It.

M. Lescleide, who has lately published a volume of Proverbs and Table of the great French poet, says for the first time that the daily companion of the author of "Les Châtiments," and he tells us among many other things, that Victor Hugo confessed to the possession of only one superstition.

Nothing could induce him to form one of thirteen at a time.

Whenever a thirteenth arrived at the last moment it was M. Lescleide's business to pick up his hat and depart.

The vitality of this hoary superstition, which no doubt originally grew out of the story of the last supper and of the tragic events which so quickly followed it.

Any one who takes the trouble to refer to the accepted tables may see for himself what is really the expectation of human life.

It will be found that, in order to obtain a mathematical probability that one out of a given thirteen healthy persons will expire during the following twelve months, the average age of the thirteen must, in default of the presence of one or two on the verge of centenarianism, be very great indeed.

It must, in fact, be eighty-eight years, and it is scarcely necessary to say that, in practice, united years of a festive party of thirteen never amount to the requisite 1144.

The annual rate of mortality among males and females of all ages is only one in forty-one, and forty-one, therefore, instead of thirteen, should be held to be the unlucky number.

This has been demonstrated over and over again; yet the number thirteen still remains ominous to thousands of excellent people in all classes of life.

In Paris there are streets in which twelve bis does duty instead of thirteen, and the householders who thus ingeniously sought to circumvent fate would not for the world have the proper number beget upon their doorsteps.

Some years ago Prince Napoleon tried to laugh his countrymen out of the superstition, but his efforts did not benefit his cause, for, with characteristic perversity, he used to invite twelve friends to carouse with him on Good-Friday, whereby he gravely scandalized right-thinking people, whatever their theological views.

In America similar but less aggressive attempts have been made to correct popular error, and numerous thirteen clubs have been established the members pledging themselves to dine thirteen at table of every opportunity.

In France, too, there is a thirteen club, the headquarters of which are at Senlis, and in England there is a little coterie of thirteen men who dine together monthly at a house numbered thirteen, and pay 13s. each for their dinner, and 13s. each to the waiters.

Yet still the superstition is as lively as of yore, all over Europe and America, and probably it will continue to flourish and to make people uncomfortable until the end of time.

Thrilling Story by an Engineer.

"Ever ride on an engine on a dark, stormy night, eh? Have you learned what a red light means?"

"I remember one bleak, dreary night in the winter of, I think it was '77, I was running on the Erie, and was pulling what is now train 4. We were behind time, and were skimming down the hill toward Alden, when we rounded the curve and saw what appeared to be a blaze of red lights before us. It seemed to me that the country was on fire. My heart jumped into my throat, and I thought my time had come.

"I reversed my lever, put on the air-brakes, and opened the throttle wide.

My fireman had jumped with serious consequences to himself, and I thought a master. I let out a brief prayer escape my lips, and felt a terrible jarring.

"At first it flashed through my mind that we had struck, but as I heard the jarring of the wheels I found that we were at almost a dead stop, the wheel slipping on account of the force of the steam which had run up. Just about two feet from us was the caboose of a freight train which we would have run into had we not stopped in time.

"After the excitement was over one fool of a passenger came up and asked why we had stopped so quick, swearing at both the road and myself for stopping train so quick. The cylinders of my engine cut a little on account of the cinders which were drawn in through reversing, but beyond that no damage.

"You can bet your bottom dollar, my boy, that the two red lights on the back of that caboose looked to me that night more like a great mountain of red stone on the track than they did the two inoffensive crimson lights." —[Buffalo Express.]

Conversation at Table.

A cheerful temper charms the stomach. Pleasant social companions will help us to digest what might otherwise prove unmanageable.

An Englishman, without observing the laws of exercise or sleep, will digest an enormous dinner, and preserve his stomach because of his two hours of chat and good fellowship. Let him eat the same quantity in the rapid restaurant without a single groan, and he would soon be a wretched dyspeptic.

The influence of a quiet, social temper upon the stomach is one of the curious facts about digestion.

Blessed are the story-tellers, for they help us digest our dinners. A good story-teller, if his stories are clean, is a good soul. His best services are rendered at the table. Those of us who cannot tell a good story can bring to the table the funny papers. —[Dio Lewis.]

Women's Influence in Reducing Speech.

There is nothing which is so interesting to everybody as the perfecting of the faculty of speech.

We have an invaluable inheritance in the possession of the English tongue, the most musical, rich and flexible language in the world—getting to be the universal language; and to woman is committed the invaluable and the exclusive power of improving all inaccuracies, for it is she who teaches the human race to speak.

She is miraculously endowed when she makes her body speak her first word; and the world gives her credit by calling a man's language his mother tongue, for the proud confidence which has been bestowed upon her. —[Leslie's Newaper.]

What There Is in a Name.

We wish to say to all who want to inquire the way to "Mind Food," that the people who live in the immediate neighborhood will inform you. I have a large property but will not sell it, as I have no money to pay for it. —[E. L. CROCKETT, mercy.]

The Fisheries Treaty.

The certainty that the Senate will voice the sentiment of the nation in regard to the Fisheries Treaty and when the vote is finally taken, will reject it for the truckling, worthless instrument that it is, has moved the Democrats of that body to delay in every way the ultimate outcome of the matter. The debates upon the treaty have gone abroad; the intense earnestness with which the administration desires its adoption are well known, as are also the many reasons why it will not and should not be ratified. To delay the evil day when by recorded vote the highest legislative body of the nation will declare that its Chief Executive has been trifling with the rights of the nation, the administration Democrats would do much. To postpone the decision until after the election has been their fondest wish, but even in that they are liable to be disappointed.

The indications now are that today will witness the end of the contention. Then comes into force the President's threat to exercise the powers accorded him by the Republican Senators under the Reprisals Act. But of that it is sufficient to say that the Act was designed to be used, and had it been used before this, as was intended, there would never have been presented to the Senate for its rejection so lamentable and weak an instrument as the present treaty.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

The Death of a Young Girl Which Should Warn Others.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 21.—On June 26th Annie Dories, a pretty girl of 16 years, died from the effects of an operation in Mrs. Dr. Hagenow's Maternity Home, on Twelfth and Howard streets. She was buried the following day, the death certificate having been signed by Dr. Dodel.

The first intimation of the mysterious case was received by Coroner Stanton Saturday afternoon. Dodel says that he supposed the woman was suffering from chills and fever when he was called to treat her. When his medicines produced no effect he advised that the girl be removed to Hagenow's. She was taken there and died after two days. It has transpired that she died of a criminal operation, although she was but 16 years of age. Mrs. Hagenow and Dodel are in jail. Mrs. Hagenow is the same female who narrowly escaped the gallows for a criminal operation upon Louise Dechow which caused that girl's death.

BOULANGER.

The Majorities by Which He is Returned to the Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, August 21.—Following are the majorities by which Boulanger is elected: Department Lower Charente, 15,068; Department of Sonime, 34,723; Department of Nord, 3,585.

At Amiens, Capital of the Department of Somme, there was rioting at the polling places the whole day, and the disturbances continued until midnight, when the military was called out and was compelled to charge the people at the point of the bayonet in order to clear the street. There were similar scenes at Lille, Capital of the Department of Nord. Fourteen arrests were made.

The Republican press attribute Boulanger's unexpected success to the Reactionaries who, fearing to put up their own candidates, used him as a blind. The Conservative journals claim the result is a decision against the Republic itself.

ASHE AND LANGTRY.

A Rumor That Porter Ashe Has Cut Gebhardt Out.

NEW YORK, August 20.—The latest sensation in this region is caused by the rumor that Mrs. Langtry has thrown Freddy Gebhardt overboard for Porter Ashe, the California turfman. The story has not yet been verified, but it is true that Ashe is much in the company of Mrs. Langtry and is favorably received by her. They have apartments at the same seaside hotel, and the gossips say her actions while with Ashe have caused a row in which all three took part. The story has created a good deal of excitement, and while it is not generally believed it has afforded plenty of gossip.

Poker or Robbery.

MARYSVILLE, August 21.—Last night about eleven o'clock Herman Linder, a young man whose parents live in Woodland, claims to have been knocked down and robbed while walking on the levee on Front street. When he presented himself at the police station his clothing was cut and his pockets were opened as if with a knife. He said the amount taken from him was about $40. The officers claim that robbery was impossible, that no one could have approached him without attracting his attention. They have traced his losses to a poker game, and claim that as he intended returning home to-day, he did not want to do so without some excuse for not having money. He has been employed here as a dry goods clerk for over a month.

In vindication of Parnell.

DUBLIN, August 20.—Freeman's Journal gives prominence to an authorized paragraph declaring that Parnell is able to make the clearest case of disproof of the charge that he was the author of the Times letters, by a chain of evidence of the most perfect character. The Journal has opened a defense fund with a subscription of £500. Archibishop Walsh, with a similar subscription, sends a warm letter indorsing Parnell's action.

A Conscientious Congressman.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—Congressman Mattson of Indiana has declined to accept the silver service presented him on Saturday by the employees of the Government printing office, on the ground that it is not proper for him to accept any reward for the performance of a duty imposed upon him as a member of Congress, and that it would set a very bad precedent.

A Murderer Hospitalized.

LONDON, August 21.—The steward of the British ship Dovenby Hall, who was sentenced to be hanged for murdering the Captain during the voyage from San Francisco to Liverpool, has been reprieved.

SHE DID NOT JUMP.

Now Frank Frost Held a Handicap Mob.

SAN JOSE, August 20.—Mrs. Van Tassel, wife of the aeronaut, was advertised to jump from a balloon at the race track here yesterday, using a parachute. A great crowd gathered paying four bits a head. Time dragged on but the balloon did not rise. The fault was first charged to the feeble gas pressure, but the crowd kept growing more and more impatient. Finally the airship began to fill, but suddenly there was a collapse, and it was given out that the balloon had been torn by contact with a eucalyptus tree as the wind swayed it in the process of filling. No one believed it and it was generally believed that the collapsed valve had been purposely pulled to avoid the ascension. The crowd made for the ticket office but the cashier had flown. Then the crowd saw Mrs. Van Tassel and a balloon attendant named Frank Frost walking together to leave the grounds. The mob began to pelt the pair, believing Frost to be Van Tassel. When Frost had managed to get the lady into a hack he returned, and whipping out a pistol denounced the crowd as cowards for stoning a woman and defying them to asault him. "You're a nice set of cowards to stone a woman, ain't you?" "Now stone me, but stone hard and fast or I'll make some of you sick. You think I'm Van Tassel; well, I ain't, but I'll fight any two of you if the balance will see fair play. If you won't, just look out, that's all. I am not afraid of a thousand cowards that would stone a woman." He was not molested.

The first intimation of the mysterious case was received by Coroner Stanton Saturday afternoon.

Dodel says that he supposed the woman was suffering from chills and fever when he was called to treat her. When his medicines produced no effect he advised that the girl be removed to Hagenow's. She was taken there and died after two days.

It has transpired that she died of a criminal operation, although she was but 16 years of age.

Mrs. Hagenow and Dodel are in jail.

Mrs. Hagenow is the same female who narrowly escaped the gallows for a criminal operation upon Louise Dechow which caused that girl's death.

MOTEL ARRIVALS.

DEPOT HOTEL—W. A. Prader, E. D. Carpenter, Ogden; F. H. Lindsey, F. M. Rowland, Long Valley; S. Laventhal, Geo A. Gian, Wm F. Miller, J. Johnstone, San Francisco; J. F. Torrey, A. Bense, Carson, E. James, Sacramento; Miss Eva Hopkins, Mrs. Moines, Geo Smith, Indians; Charles Kaiser, Churchill.

PALACE HOTEL—C. Roberts, Chata; John Tighe, San Diego; L. Malvina, Sacramento; S. M. Roberts, Milford; E. Wentworth, Reno; J. Mayer, Hawthorne, J. F. Peters, D. Welch, San Francisco; R. N. Smith, Junction; F. H. Mallory, J. F. Jennings, Virginia City; C. L. Baker, J. A. Bonham and family, Dayton; Mrs. E. L. Reynolds, Stockton; B. Campbell, Truckee; Ed Ferris, Long Valley.

JOTTINGS.

Sun hats, lace shawls, bonnet frames, at Miss Gibbs', Virginia street.

For good wood, full cord guaranteed, go to J. F. Aitken. Leave orders at Meyer's sign store.

Job work of every description, promptly, neatly and cheaply executed at the GAZETTE office.

C. A. Thorntop keeps neatly bound copies of the leading American and English poets, besides all the popular novels of the day.

Brockins keeps only first-class pianos and organs, which he sells at very low prices and on the installment plan. Give him a call before purchasing elsewhere.

At noon time every day the John Wieland saloon is crowded with people who don't have time to go home to lunch. They get a schooner of Wieland beer and a hot lunch for 12½ cents.

Jake Becker's latest importation, Anheuser beer, has "caught on," and at noon time scores of business men can be seen drinking the foaming beer and eating a delicious hot lunch. All for 12½ cents.

The Depot hotel still sustains its reputation for being the best eating house on the line of the Central Pacific, and east and west-bound passengers never fail to judge for themselves as the trains arrive on time.

Kathleen Mavourneen.

A local dramatic club has been organized for the purpose of producing an early date the charming drama entitled "Kathleen Mavourneen." The performance will be under the direction of a San Francisco professional, and the proceeds will be donated to the Trinity Church Guild. The business management is in excellent and reliable hands, and every effort will be made to make the performance a dramatic treat.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he does something just as good, or just alike. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Large Bottles $1.

Dr. F. W. Fyler's Abietine Ointment—A combination of the Gum Abietine, Vaseline and other Therapeutic agents. The best healing and purifying remedy in the world, for Piles, Old Warts, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Etc. Price 25 cents. Sold by Wm. Fyler. All genuine Abietine preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fyler.

Another "Enterprise" List.

Last Sunday no fewer than thirteen buggies were engaged in this city for Reno, says the Virginia Enterprise. Our people went down there to cool off, having heard that the riverside town was a sort of refrigerator. They soon found they had made a leap from the frying-pan into the fire. About half a dozen fat men seated up to their chins in the river. It was the only way in which they could prevent the follow within them from melting.

Fryer's Abietine Ointment—A combination of the Gum Abietine, Vaseline and other Therapeutic agents. The best healing and purifying remedy in the world, for Piles, Old Warts, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Etc. Price 25 cents. Sold by Wm. Fyler. All genuine Abietine preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fyler.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence. Chat Roberts of Moran is at the Palace.

John A. Fitzgerald was a passenger for San Francisco last evening.

William Thompson is in San Francisco on electric light and gas business.

F. M. Rowland, the Long Valley rancher, is registered at the Depot hotel.

Immense quantities of freight are now passing west over the Central Pacific.

A score or more Nevadans are rustinating at Rubicon Springs, Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Herman J. Thyes returned from Santa Cruz, Cal., yesterday morning.

Clem Lemery of the Palace restaurant is doing the grand in San Francisco to-day.

Senator Charles Kaiser of Churchill county returned from San Francisco last evening.

Louis Dean yesterday shipped six carloads of beef cattle to Gerlach & Flake, Stockton, Cal.

Doc. Callison is on trial at Hawthorne for the murder of J. Donahue at Candelaria last June.

It is predicted that some important mining development will shortly be made in Peavine district.

John Clark is under arrest at Winnemucca for selling liquor to Indians. He was caught in the act.

A fine flowing well has been struck in Carson valley on the ranch of J. H. Martin at a depth of 320 feet.

Several citizens—taxpayers too—are guilty of the reprehensible practice of dumping garbage in the public streets.

Miss Louise Sisea, a member of the faculty of Bishop Whittaker's School for Girls, arrived from Virginia to-day.

Mrs. C. H. Taylor, mother of Mrs. Beemer, departed for Los Angeles last evening and will hereafter permanently reside there.

Mrs. C. W. Booton and her daughter, Miss Lillian, will depart this evening for San Francisco and will be absent about two weeks.

Mr. Herdenger, a Carson druggist, was struck in the eye with a baseball club last Sunday, and it is feared the sight is destroyed.

On Sunday last Scott Brothers of Fish Springs, this county, shipped two carloads of beef cattle to Hayes, Carrick & Co., San Francisco.

The poundkeeper of San Diego has handed in his resignation to the City Council. He says his life is in danger from those who resent his official acts.

Fifteen carloads of cattle, loaded at Wells and from the range of E. P. Hardisty, will arrive here to-morrow on the way to Hayes, Carrick & Co., San Francisco.

G. W. Parry, a brother of R. M. Parry of the Depot hotel, arrived from his home at Festning, Wales, Sunday evening, and will make Reno his permanent abode.

The copartnership heretofore existing between J. N. Wallace and J. V. Peers, under the firm name of Wallace & Peers, has been dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Peers retaining.

Miss Chester and Miss Pease, who have resigned their positions at the School for Girls, will proceed to New York by steamer, and expect to leave San Francisco on the 30th instant.

It is now the intention of the Directors of the State Board of Agriculture to plant a row of trees the full length of Fair avenue, leading to the race-track, when the proper season arrives.

Journal: The Athletic Club will be pleased to see its friends to-night but there will be no especial exhibition, nothing more than the usual regular exercises. The announcement heretofore made of an entertainment was unauthorized.

Johnny Fitzgerald, late of the Depot hotel, is said to be gazing with longing eyes in the direction of the Sheriff's office. As he is a "get there, Eli!" sort of a man, the canvas for the Republican nomination will be a lively one should he enter the lists.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

No More Bald Heads.

Restores the color, gloss, and youthful freshness of the hair; stimulates a rich and luxuriant growth; thoroughly cleanses the scalp; prevents dandruff and humors; and is the most cleanly and effective preparation for the hair ever offered to the public. Rev. J. W. Davenport, Illinois Bend, Texas, writes: "Ayer's Hair Vigor, used in my family for several years, has no equal as a dressing, nor for preventing the hair from falling out or turning prematurely gray. It ranks among the first luxuries of our house." Miss Kate Rose, Ingersoll, Ontario, writes: "While keeping my head clear of dandruff, and preventing Scald Head, Ayer's Hair Vigor has also caused my hair to grow luxuriantly, resulting in my now possessing hair forty-two inches long, and as thick as could be desired." The wife of Dr. V. S. Lovelace, Lovelaceville, Ky., had never better sores upon her head, causing the hair to fall out. Ayer's Hair Vigor soothed the sores, and in less than twelve months produced hair a foot long.

THE LOGIC OF EVENTS.

"Well, well," said Mrs. Catson, putting aside a newspaper and turning to her husband, "a pair of ear-rings caused the Burmese war. I never heard of anything so strange."

"Oh," said Mr. Catson, "I have heard of stranger things."

"Well, I have, and I'll give you an example. One night, in Boston, a young man, meeting an acquaintance, said, 'Come, let's have a drink.' I was never in Boston, but that remark brought about our marriage."

"Why, George," exclaimed Mrs. Catson, "you are foolish. Neither of us were ever in Boston. You must be losing your mind."

"Tell you what I'll do: I promised to get you a new cloak, didn't I?"

"Yes."

"Well, now I'll bet you the cloak that I can prove my assertion."

"I'm right."

"If I succeed you don't get the cloak."

"I understand."

"Well, one night in Boston, about ten years ago, a young man, meeting a friend, asked him to come and have a drink. The friend, a drug clerk did so. He took several drinks and got drunk. That settled it."

"Settled what?"

"The fact of our marriage."

"How can you be so foolish?"

"Never mind, I'll explain. The drug clerk got drunk and went to the store. Shortly afterward, a servant girl entered and handed him a prescription. In putting it up, he used morphine instead of quinine. The girl went away, and delivered the medicine to Mrs. Potter, who took it and died."

"Oh, what's the use of prolonging this foolishness?"

"Hold on. To the death of that woman drew you and me closer together than we ever were before."

"We were not acquainted with each other ten years ago."

"That is very true, but wait. Mr. Potter, the lady's husband, was almost crazed by grief. He could stay in Boston no longer, so he came down to Kentucky and, after awhile, went into business. Don't see any light yet, do you?"

"Oh, hush."

"Wait a minute. He had not been in business long until I met him. He took a fancy to me, and gave me employment. After it had been with him several years, he sent me to Arkansas. I had been in this country out a short time until I met you."

"Summary: If the friend had not asked the drug clerk to drink on one certain occasion, he would not have got drunk, if he hadn't been drunk he would not have made a mistake in filling the prescription, and had he not made a mistake, Mrs. Potter would not have been killed, and had she not died, Potter would not have left Boston, and had he not left that city I should not have met him, and had I not gone into business with him."

"Oh, for goodness sake, hush. You are enough to drive anybody crazy."

She arose and left the room. Her husband mused:

"I'll make her another bet. I'll bet she doesn't get the cloak. I have always thought that the logic of events failed to meet with proper appreciation in this country." —[Arkansas Traveler.]

Mock Auction of Cigars.

That aged system of swindling by means of mock auction sales of $1-75 is still carried on successfully in New York. The other day a well-known Southern man entered a little place where cigars were being sold by an auctioneer. There were apparently three or four men who were bidding briskly, and as the cigars seemed to be fine, the stranger combed for a choice box, which was knocked down to him for $5. Immediately afterward the sale was declared closed.

The Southerner stepped up to the counter, where apparent customers were receiving parcels, and asked for his box, at the same time tendering a $5 bill.

"You owe $50," said the cashier severely.

"For what?"

"These cigars are sold in lots, not by the box."

"I distinctly bid for one box."

"You are mistaken."

"We all bid for lots," declared the customers.

The Southerner concluded he had a bargain anyway, and that his friends would be glad to take such cigars off his hands. He thought that he might, after all, have been bidding under a misapprehension.

He wrote an order on a prominent hotel where he was staying for $5, and directed that the cigars be sent there. Then he went down town and forgot all about the matter until evening.

When he returned to the hotel the clerk said:

"We paid your order, but we know that you have been swindled."

"Oh, no; the cigars are worth double the money."

Contract in a spasm of pain.

At the foot of the hill in my little white cot.

The hours pass swiftly away;

With my everyday duties and round of small cares,

I am happy and busy all day.

In my pretty pink dress and with unadorned hair,

At even a walk to the stile,

To wait for my husband returning from work,

And to give him a kiss and a smile.

The lady who lives at the top of the hill

Has her carriage, her pony to ride;

And often she drives past the door of my cot.

But her husband is not by her side.

And often she meets us, my husband and me.

Going home thro' the long shady lane,

And her beautiful features, so haughty and cold.

Contract in a spasm of pain.

Ah, the house at the top of the hill is a gem!

But it cannot compare with my cot.

All the jewels and wealth of the lady, up there

Could not tempt me to change with her for a moment.

We have love in our cot, that in sunshine or gloom,

Our hearts with pure happiness fill,

Oh, no! I'd not give for the wealth of the world.

My cot at the foot of the hill.

—Little Alice.

In the little village of Mount Pleasant, in the potteries of Staffordshire, England, is to be found a child whose extraordinary growth excites great wonder.

Little Alice, as she is humorously called, is but four years of age, yet turns the scale at 150 pounds, the circumference of her waist being no less than 5 feet, while her height is 4 feet, so that literally she is broader than she is long.

She is bright, intelligent, and remarkably pretty, her head being crowned with a mass of golden hair.
